The African Living Spa

GIBB'S FARM Tanzania, Africa

There are healing secrets whose origins are lost in the mists of time, secrets known only to the traditional healers of the Maasai of Tanzania.

Until now.

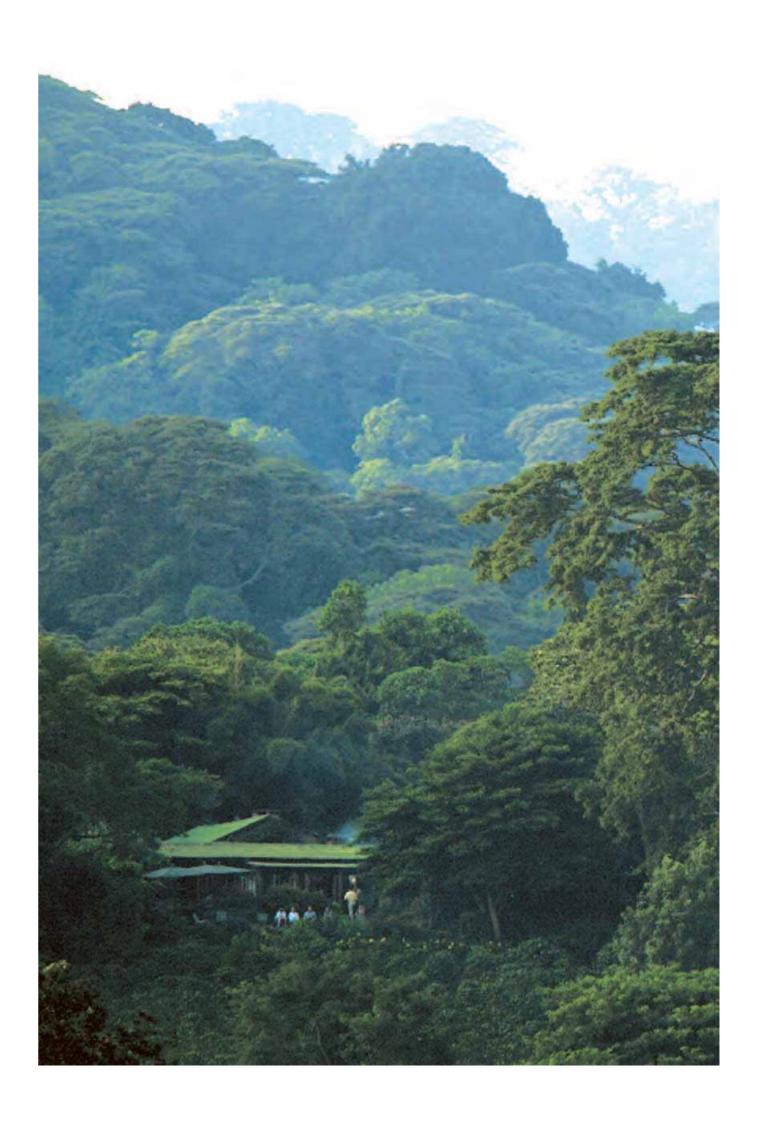

Once reserved for the exclusive use of Maasai tribal members, these ancient medicines and treatments are being offered for the first time to travelers visiting GIBB'S FARM, through the skills of our traditionally trained resident healers and their assistants.

> Allow yourself to be touched by the wisdom of the distant past through this truly African Living Spa experience.

"Tajewu Ibiot - Injoo Kinjiunyeki - Inoto Emayani"

Be Well - be Healed - be at Peace

Osero healing incorporates 5 key Maasai wellness principles, each based upon a timeless interaction between their culture and the plants, minerals, and animals of the earth itself - all contributing their unique attributes to your healing experience.

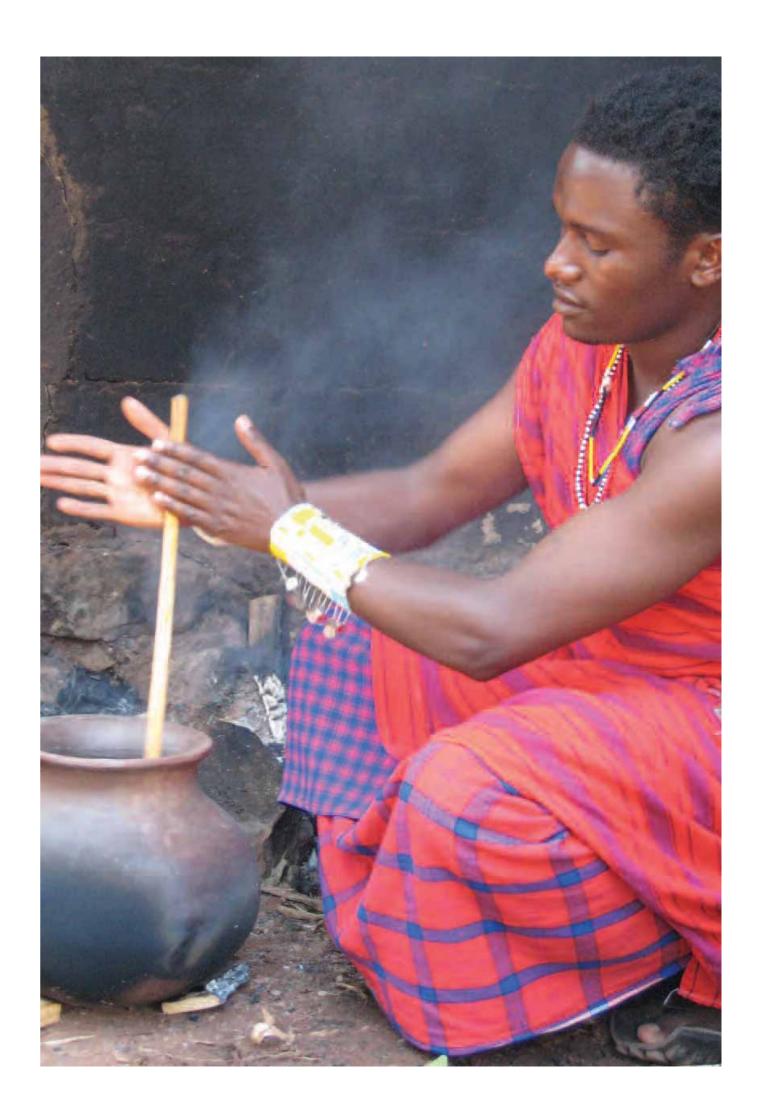

Rooted in the daily regimen of Osero Forest Clinic's treatment programs, the African Living Spa's highly personalized approach to alleviating individual wellness issues draws its healing energy from the world of nature.

Local medicinal materials are freshly gathered, harvested, and prepared by hand, giving each healing treatment the added enhancement of the traditional healer's personal energy and individualized attention.

The 5 Intrinsic Maasai Healing Values

Maasai healing is based on a philosophy of caring for all aspects of indigenous Life : children, cattle, sustenance, fire, fertility, and Spirit.

Empowered by centuries-old medicinal knowledge, the concept of healing takes on an entirely new meaning through its inclusion of these essential Maasai healing values:

True wealth lies in the well-being of our children and our cattle

The first lesson of responsibility a Maasai child learns is the tender care of the family cattle, which represent his sustenance and his family's wealth. Through this discipline, Maasai children learn to embody honor, trust, and respect in all things.

At the African Living Spa, we give our attention to the nourishment of both body and soul, through mindful care of that which is most valuable.

Medicine must be offered to the body with food, water, or milk for the body to benefit

Ocimum Suave tea, brewed fresh on the hearth during every treatment, is a natural detoxifying agent offered to clients following every African Living Spa treatment.

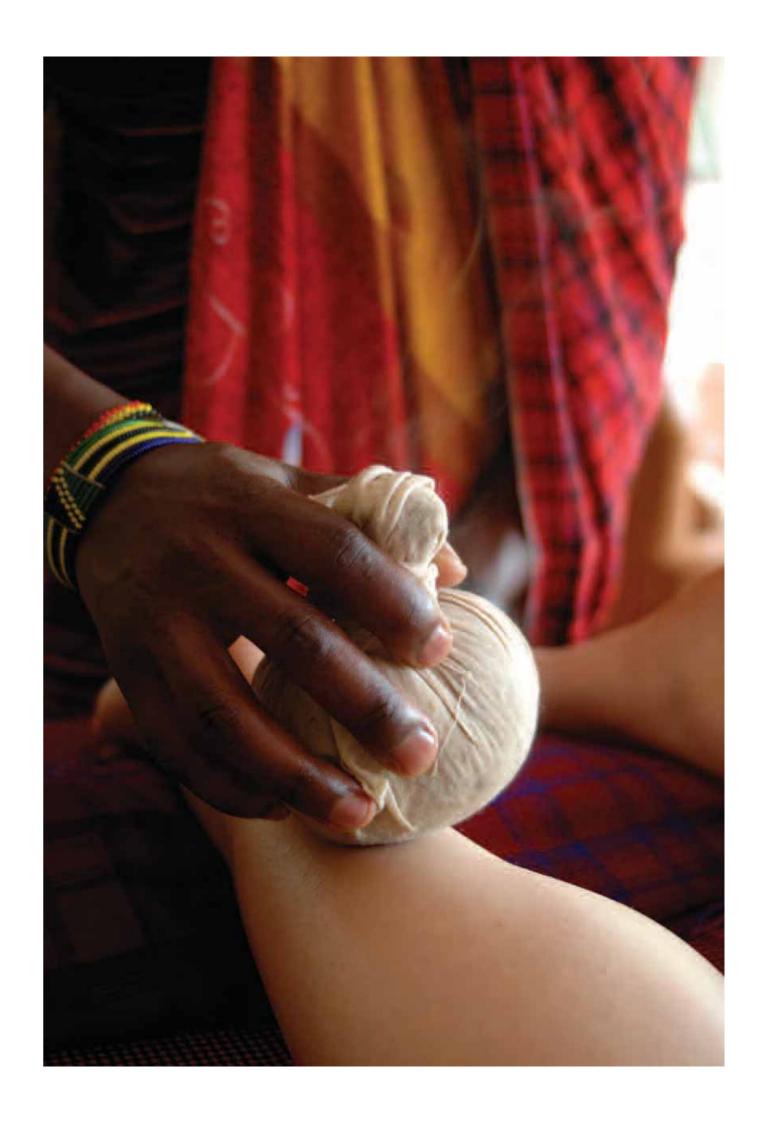

Freshly extracted herbal oils are combined with local artesian well water for body and foot scrubs employing local volcanic pumice stone for soothing and softening skin as well as relieving tension and jet-lag.

Milk oil is hand-churned in gourd calabashes daily from the GIBB'S FARM dairy herd, and mixed with selected plant medicines to create a wondrously silken milk-based massage oil.

The energy and vitality of En-Kai (Spirit) is embodied in the healing power of fire, bringing long life and happiness

Heated muslin-wrapped packets of fresh herbs steamed by an open fire and fire-warmed Olorien wood are skillfully used to relax and release muscle tensions, returning the body to balance.

Fertile land and healthy cattle are the Fundamentals of Life for the Maasai

Olkaria red clay paint is hand-pounded and mixed with the rich emulsion of milk oil and plant medicines to revive the skin, improve circulation, and tone the skin.

One of the riches of the volcanic slopes of GIBB'S FARM is its robust and flavorful bounty of organic coffee beans. Fresh roasted and finely ground, these beans are blended with Olkaria clay to create a superb exfoliant and stimulating massage treatment.

Spirit is omnipresent, offering power and wisdom to the healer

Experience the timeless healing power of the ancient Oreteti tree, as you consult with traditionally trained Maasai healers in the beauty and tranquility of the local forest.
